The department initiated the BSW programme in the year 2015 and the M.Phil. Programme in the year 2018. The department works with the focus of giving solid theoretical foundation which is put to test on the rough terrains of life. This is achieved through Industrial visits, rura/tribal camps, field studies and extension work. The department having networks with more than 200 NGOs, government agencies, and sustains a satisfactory learning ambience. The Department has produced talented social workers who are in the field as Counselors, Human Resource Managers, Public Relations Officers, Entrepreneurs and Academicians.

About the Webinar

Indians are known to have their innate resilience power to bounce back from hard hits, be it natural calamities or economic crisis. However Covid-19 is extremely a new scenario which has gripped us fear, anxiety and impulsive situations. The Social, Psychological and Economic Resilience of the citizen all over the world are now challenged. Months have passed, concentrating on the pandemic on how to grapple the spread of the virus, but we have not looked enough into the necessary measures to be taken on the livelihood of the poor and the needy. Do we have strategic plans to bounce-back to normalcy after the restrictions are removed? Are we ready to face the challenges post the pandemic? are vital questions that needs to be addressed. The Objective of this Webinar is to focus Psychosocial and the Economic Resilience of India during Covid-19 post lock down period. The participants will engage in a thought-provoking discourse on the spread of COVID-19 and how it has affected almost all spheres of human life – physical, emotional, and economic. This webinar will throws more light on the possible ways and means to face the post lockdown challenges and to build social, economic and Psychosocial Resilience.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW:

Morning Session (Day 1 – 24/07/2020)

The 1st session of the National Virtual Conference on CO-CREATING A POSITIVE & SUSTAINABLE URBAN ENVIRONMENT commenced with a Prayer by Peter, a student of Social Work. Ms. Usha Jose, Associate Professor of the Department of Social Work, delivered the welcome address which was followed by the Inaugural Speech given by Dr. Fatima Vasanth, the Academic Director of Patrician College of Arts and Science The CEO and Founder of the World Vision India, Mr. Madhav Bellamkonda, delivered the keynote address of the virtual conference.

The Panel discussion for the first session was on the topic “Urban and Child Labour” moderated by Dr. Helen Sekar, a Senior Fellow at V.V Giri National Labour Institute. The first paper presented was “A Study on Socio-economic and Educational Problems faced by Children at Chemmencheri Slum Clearance Board” by Francis Dhivakar, Assistant Professor at Don Bosco College. His paper revealed the social, economic, academic and other effects of eviction of people from slums into slum clearance board, especially on children. The presentation also elaborated on the general stereotypes, prejudice that prevailed among the general public on the people of slum clearance board and the unhygienic living conditions of the people there. Mr. Dhivakar also suggested necessary steps that can be taken to find solution for the problems stated from his findings.

The second paper was by Brother John Clinton, an MPhil research scholar, titled “Awareness among college students on child sexual abuse and its prevention strategies”. The presenter discussed the definitions of child, child abuse and sexual abuse in detail. He delivered his findings from the interviews which were the basis for the research and concluded that there was a rapid increase in the child sexual abuse cases.

“Urban Child Labour: A global tyranny and inhuman issues, A KATHAKAR’S METHODOLOGY” was the third and final paper of the 1st session of the conference presented by Jyoti Sharma, II MSWC – Indira Gandhi National Open University, Delhi. Her paper described the common causes for child labour, major areas of exploitation and hazardous child labour and the consequences and negative impact of child labour. She also explored the role of gender stereotypes and gender bias in child labour.

The moderator of the panel discussion, Dr. Helen Segar, emphasized that the work of girl children wasn’t recognized and were doubly vulnerable when it came to child labour. There was a short question answer session in which the questions from the participants were answered by the moderator. She concluded the moderation by expressing her thoughts and views on the papers that were presented. The session ended with the felicitation of the moderator Dr. Helen Segar by Dr. Anjana who was Senior Director of special projects at World Vision India.

Evening Session (Day 1 – 24/07/2020)

The session started with an introduction of the moderator, Dr. Poongodi Bala MBBS, MRC Psych (UK), Consultant Adult, Child Adolescent Psychiatrist, Behavioural Counsellor and Former Consultant in Manchester (UK). Dr. Bala spoke a few introductory lines about the topic of the session, “Family Well-being” and also emphasized the need for family well-being during the COVID –19 pandemic.

The first presentation of the session was on the topic “Family Relationships and Intimate Partner Violence” by Angeline Nivedha, a student of the social work department. Her presentation explored the concept of Intimate partner violence and the importance of family.

The causes and effects of such violence on the victims, especially women in India, were discussed in detail followed by suggestions for awareness programs, stricter laws and better family environment.

The next presentation was by Preethi Mariam Oommen and Aishwarya Gopinath, students of social work from Madras Christian College, on “Gender equality and violence against middle-aged women in slums of Chennai”. Their presentation focused on the gender inequality in the society by considering the socio-economic and educational status of middle-aged women in the slums of Chennai. Husbands were the major perpetrators of violence in the lives of these women and they were more mentally, verbally and economically abused. There was barely awareness among the women about domestic violence. The presenters also made a documentary to emphasize their claims and concluded their presentation by explaining the roles of a social worker to empower these women and sensitizing people about domestic violence.

The moderator was called to express her expertise and thoughts about the presentations. She made the participants understand the causes and effects of domestic violence, the gender stereotypes and gender inequalities prevailing in the society. She congratulated the presenters for their efforts and good work. Questions were posed to the moderator and the presenters from the participants and the session concluded with the felicitation of Dr. Poongodi Bala by Ms. Clara Raphael the Head of My City Initiative at World Vision India.

Morning Session (Day 2 – 25/07/2020)

The session started with an introduction of the moderator, Dr. Debolina Kundu, Associate Professor at the National Institute of Urban Affairs, New Delhi. Dr. Kundu expressed her views about the migrants and livelihood. Then, she requested the presenters to start their presentation so that she can give suggestions after a small overview of the topic.

The first presentation of the session was on the topic “Urban policy and its impact on the urban poor” by Ms. Anne Carolin, a student of social work department, Loyola college Chennai. She presented the concept of migrant workers displacement and also explained about the involvement in displacement. The consequences of the displacement and the measures taken by the government were discussed in detail. She concluded that the government was not given any compensation and protection to people who were displaced.

The second presentation was presented by Ms. Sharavanthi Rekha, M.Phil Scholar, Loyola College Chennai on the topic “Capacity building for the students residing on women’s welfare hostel in Chennai through theater for transformation”. The presentation focused on the improvement of communication and self-esteem for the welfare hostel students through theater methods. She explained that Family conditions, poor performance in school and financial conditions are the major contributing factor for the welfare hostel students. She concluded that lack of confidence and self-esteem were the major limiting factor for the welfare hostel students.

The third presentation was by Giffin Jose, SOS CV, Gujarat on “challenges faced by migrant labourers and their alternative livelihood options”. He presented a overview on migrant workers and challenges faced by them during this pandemic situation. He also explained that the millions of migrant workers migrate from villages to various cities in search of their livelihood. He also suggested that value added products, making cooperatives at villages and strengthening of self help groups to village organization will be their alternative livelihood options. He concluded that government as well as non government organizations can support the migrant workers in terms of livelihood.

At last, the moderator was requested to express her expertise and thoughts about the presentations. She made the participants understand how the research paper to be presented by giving constructive comments for each presenter. She gave statistical values of urbanization in India for many years and suggested the presenters to use correct methodology abstract. Then she explained that income data was not given whereas the expenditure data is had been increasing for many years. Finally, she congratulated the presenters for their excellent research work. Leanne maria, Assistant professor, Department of social work, Patrician college of arts and science taken over the question and answer session were the questions raised by the participants was discussed with Dr.Debolina Kundu as well as the presenters. The session concluded with felicitation of Dr. Debolina Kundu by Dr. Anjana Senior Director, Special Projects, and World Vision India. and values.

Evening Session (Day 2 25/07/2020):

The evening session of the national conference started with the introduction of the panel moderators Dr. Anitha vector and Dr.Kalyani Gopal. Dr. Anitha vector addressed the participant through power point presentation indicating evolution and urbanization, and lack of mental health around India. There were three presenters for the evening session to present their papers on mental and physical health.

The first paper was presented by Jijo Joy, Head of the department, school of social work, De paul institute of science and technology, Kerala on urbanization and mental health. His paper mainly focused on managing depression through psychological, medical and complementary and life style interventions. He concluded his presentation to urging the people to break the chain during this pandemic “by staying home, staying safe and staying healthy”.

The second paper was presented by Mukshitha Dhrangadharia, research scholar, Department of social work, Sadar Patel University, Gujarat on examining the impact of demographic factors on mental health of cancer patients. She elaborated on the mental health of the cancer patient and lack of counselling services due to their economic crisis. She presented the outcomes of the study to get clear concept of her research paper.

The third paper was presented by Tanya Stephanic Monteiro, research scholar, Department of social work, Pondicherry University on “MENTAL HEALTH AT THE INTERSECTIONS OF MARGINALIZATION exploring the mental health concerns of women sanitation workers in India”. The presenter gave brief introduction on mental health marginalization followed by methods used in the research paper. The paper mainly focused on intersectionality and social system theory. The presenter also emphasized the risk in sanitation work and problems faced by women sanitation work. The presenter gave clear picturisation of conceptualizing the relation between marginalization and mental health. The presenter concluded her presentation with implication on marginalization and mental health.

At the end of the presentation the panel moderators shared their views on the paper presented by the presentees followed by valedictory session. Ms. Divya. INTRODUCTION

Recently the terms "governance" and "good governance" are being increasingly used in development literature. Bad governance is being increasingly regarded as one of the root causes of all evil within our societies. Major donors and international financial institutions are increasingly basing their aid and loans on the condition that reforms that ensure "good governance" are undertaken.

The concept of "governance" is not new. It is as old as human civilization. Simply put "governance" means: the process of decision-making and the process by which decisions are implemented (or not implemented). Governance can be used in several contexts such as corporate governance, international governance, national governance and local governance. Since governance is the process of decisionmaking and the process by which decisions are implemented, an analysis of governance focuses on the formal and informal actors involved in decision-making and implementing the decisions made and the formal and informal structures that have been set in place to arrive at and implement the decision.

OVERVIEW

The session started with a story time which described communication in an exam hall and further explained about the various types of communication and how a grievance petition was written. The session continued with the process of explaining about how an RTI should be filed and an emergency case in the High Court of Madras with the help of an organisation was given as an example. The resource person explained the role of RTI and the various types of RTI and various examples of RTI. The resource person cleared all the doubts of the students on how the government works and what is the role and functions of Government RTI. The session discussed how RTI can be useful for a student and how RTI can be used for competitive exams for research scholars to get scholarships extra. It also explained whom to seek information regarding and discuss the public information officers role the Directorate of Education of state and various financial requirements and payment details with concern the RTI the session also discussed on the online RTI format.

The second session was on the laws that every Indian citizens must know

Consumer Protection Act 1986

Special Marriage Act of 1954

Domestic Violence Act 2005.

The Maternity Benefit Amendment Act 2017

All these acts were taught to students in detail

RESOURCE PERSON PROFILE:

Hailing from a family of successful first generation entrepreneurs, Aishwarya Kalpathi never had to look elsewhere for inspiration. A Political Science degree from St. Xaviers College in Mumbai and a Master's degree in Management from Warwick Business School in UK, have enabled Ms. Aishwarya to synthesize her interests in political advocacy and entrepreneurship.

In today's rigidly opinionated world, Aishwarya aims to promote a culture of dialogue to strengthen our vibrant democracy, while reminding citizens that rights and duties go hand in hand. YUVA Active Advocacy Forum, a not-for-profit enterprise, is the brainchild of Aishwarya. In her endeavor to enhance political participation, political awareness and civic education, Aishwarya has ably steered her organization to significant heights in a short span. Within a year YUVA has empowered more than 2,000 students of varying academic backgrounds in Chennai, Tiruvallur and Kanchipuram through workshops about Right to Information, Public Interest Litigation, and The Constitution of India to name a few.

She has also successfully conceptualized and created a one of its kind web platform where citizens are connected to their local representatives, and can voice their opinions fearlessly. An exhaustive database of MPs and MLAs who are contesting elections (including their educational qualifications, criminal record etc.), and a campaign feature, where citizens can draw the attention of their local representatives to civic issues, are the crowning features of this platform. Also, users are free to submit articles to share their opinions, and engage in discussion forums on topics that are of importance. Through YUVA, she has recently organized a national seminar on "Celebrating Secularism" in collaboration with Loyola college. To infuse politics with the much needed academic rigor, Aishwarya is working towards building a leadership institute, where aspiring young politicians will be trained by the best minds in the country for a career in politics.

Through these education, empowerment and leadership initiatives at YUVA, Aishwarya has only begun to work towards her vision of bringing political advocacy back in vogue. Armed with a clear vision to take YUVA to every part of the country, and build a reliable name for her not for profit enterprise, Aishwarya stands as a clear example of the fact that business interests need not be divorced from social responsibility.

NO. OF. PARTICIPANTS: 43 students of II BSW

RESOURCE PERSONS:

Mr. Blesson Samuel – World vision

RESOURCE PERSONS PROFILE:

Blesson Samuel currently is the Head for Emergency Relief for World Vision India. He was involved in various emergency relief interventions and also provided leadership for implementation of disaster risk reduction programs. His research interest include community based disaster risk reduction, climate change adaptation and Resilience of flood prone communities. He is currently undertaking a study on Adaptation to Climate change: Challenges for 'Development' in flood prone areas. Blesson holds an MA from TISS and M.Phil from Centre of Law and Governance, JNU.

OBJECTIVES:

- To study about the world vision origin and their contribution towards the society.
- To know about the fundraising
- To study about fundraising techniques and getting to the sponsor's.
- To know the challenges that we are going to face.
- And at last we learned the DO'S and DONT'S that is their rules and regulations.

PRORGRAM OVERVIEW:

DAY 1

The entire session was going on in online class in first day they started with their introduction like how they founded this organization, what was their vision to start this Ngo.

World Vision India is one of the country's largest child-focused humanitarian organizations. With over six decades of experience at the grassroots, we employ proven, effective development, public engagement and relief practices empowering vulnerable children and communities living in contexts of poverty and injustice to become self-sufficient and bring lasting change.

World Vision India works in 143 districts impacting around 26 lakh children and their families in over 6200 communities spread across 23 states and 3 union territories to address issues affecting children in partnership with governments, civil societies, donors and corporate.

And they told about the fundraising system that's the purpose they are offering internship to college students and this going to be an incentive type also they explained how this internship is going to be. Before that they told why is fundraising is important for Ngo. Then they said

As Fund-raising is a key element of any NGO across the Global, thus the Channel - Donor Acquisition Department of Resource Mobilization of World Vision India has come forward to impact the students of Social Work and train them on Fund-raising and Fund-processing through Internship Program.

DAY 2

In the second day they abbreviated their full internship. For that they first told about their protocols which must be followed. Their internship is we the students should gather sponsors for the children minimum 2 sponsors and maximum is no limits. If one person gathers two sponsors that is per plan basis 800/- for one month and the incentive is 1000/- per month along with that an appreciation certificate will be given. And for that few instructions were also given in that session mainly they told about the types of fundraising system.

- Direct funding(face to face)
- Tele facing fundraising
- Online fundraising

And second mainly they told about is that the students should maintain their decency, if not if they came to know they will cancel that particular student internship in that they are very strict about that. It's a must every student pursue the sixteen days of attendance. Definitely they should submit a bonified certificate

OUTCOME:

In this two days we the students clearly understood what is fundraising all about also they taught us first how to start fundraising, how to approach to the sponsors, in what ways can we approach to them all the details we learnt there. And sir blessen motivated the students and added few life tips. Also we do know about the world vision history the whole session was carried by Alexander savarimuthu.

FEEDBACK:

- That two days session was really good and informative thanks to the two resource persons for spending their precious time with us. - Michael Britto, II BSW
- Seriously it is worth to attend this session many information I gathered in this session and mainly the techquines for fundraising is really useful it will be a skill for me for future needs. - Divya Bharathi, II BSW

CONCERNS & SUGGESTIONS:

- Social work trainees suggested conducting payroll session for the HR social work students so that it might be useful for the upcoming acts and laws.

INTRODUCTION

Entrepreneurship development (ED) refers to “the process of enhancing entrepreneurial skills and knowledge through structured training and institution-building programmes”.

It basically aims to enlarge the base of entrepreneurs in order to hasten the pace at which new ventures are created. This accelerates employment generation and economic development. This program is intended to give the students a opening for the basic challenges and strategies followed by the young entrepreneurs.

OVERVIEW

The students had a brief orientation on sanitary napkins and menstrual hygiene by Ramya Dharshini she is currently studying b.tech bio technology at sastra deemed university she gave us a brief knowledge about her organization “bhuvii” and she gave orientation about the production process and chemicals used in sanitary napkins . The meeting was conducted online through google meet. Both BSW and MSW students were joined in the meeting. 76 students were present in the meeting. The program started at 10.50 a.m and ended at 12.30 p.m. The program lasted for one hour twenty-five minutes.

PROFILE OF THE RESOURCE :

Mrs Ramya Dharshini. U is the Head of Research and Development in global care company. She is currently studying B.tech biotechnology in sastra deemed university researching about sanitary napkins. Her passion towards entrepreneurship made her start up her innovative business in this field. During her school days she was highly motivated and focused to start up her own business line which made her excel in this field.

DATE:

TIME:

10.50-12.30

OBJECTIVES:

- To understand the challenges faced by the entrepreneurs
- To bring out the strategies used by the young entrepreneurs
- To highlight on the current trends in business
- To handle and manage new innovative business strategies.

PARTICIPANTS:

76 college students from the department of social work.

FEEDBACK:

- 3) The session was very useful not only for girls but for boys too. Boys should also know about the problems faced by women. The chief guest were explaining about the demerits of sanitary napkins which were produced by natural resource so by using these natural waste napkins women can reduce disease which are formed by plastic napkins.
- 4) She told us how to be a good entrepreneur in the future. She spoke very openly and thought how to aim our future. She compared bhuvika sanitary napkins to another ones and said that bhuvika is the best. After she explains I also felt that bhuvika is the best. Bhuvika Smart Sanitary Napkin takes its pride in saying that it is completely healthy and safe to use, both to the body and to the environment. 100% natural large surface of cotton for an instant dry and soft feel. Anion strip neutralizes odour and relieve menstrual discomfort. Both side protection to prevent leakage. Sterilized air laid paper to guide menstrual fluid. Sterilized air laid paper for extra protection. Breathable bottom layer allows air to circulate, eliminates moisture & heat. Food grade nontoxic glue allows best fit. This all we came to know in this session. It was so useful. All the girl students know about the sanitary napkins. She did a good awareness about sanitary napkins. I look forward to attend these awareness sessions programme.

OUTCOME:

- To students came to know about the challenges faced by the entrepreneurs
- The session brought out the strategies used by the young entrepreneurs in more clear and practical manner
- The students were given good knowledge on the current trends in business
- As the resource person was discussing her business she have new innovative business strategies and ideas to the students.
